She will also spend two weeks in Hustonville before her return home. Mr. Virgil Lucas and Misses Martha and Nannie Lucas were visiting their uncle, Mr. Wm. Baughman, near McKimsey, Saturday. His Last Hope Realized.

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item.—The Sentinel, Gebo, Mont. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

The textile strike at the Lowell Mills has been declared at an end by the Textile Council, and the operatives, numbering about 17,000 men, will return to work as rapidly as the mills resume operations.

McIntyre, of his command and one of the men detailed to guard the jury who sat in trial of the Jett and White case, was approached during the trial by a stranger who offered him a bribe of $500 for the privilege of a five-minute conversation with a member of the jury. The name of the stranger could not be learned, but it is said that Private McIntyre gave him just three minutes to get away and cautioned him not to come near him or the jury again.

ALTHOUGH a hung jury in the case of Curtis Jett for killing J. B. Marcum at Jackson was what a great many expected, it was not generally believed that one juror would thwart justice as was done. Eleven good men and true believed Jett guilty of murder but the twelfth, a fellow named Fitzpatrick, knew more than all the rest and held out for an acquittal. After 24 hours' wrangling with the case Judge Redwine finally discharged the jury and ordered Jett and White taken to Lexington for safe-keeping. A change of venue to Harrison county was granted and it is hoped that in a few weeks they will again be on trial for their lives and that in this case there will be no Fitzpatrick on the jury, but instead men who will do their duty as jurors. There is no doubt about Jett having fired the shot that killed Marcum and no earthly reason why he should not feel the halter draw. White was certainly an accessory and he too should be disposed of on the same scaffold.

THE court of appeals upheld the primary held in Jefferson county, upheld the regular democratic city and county committee which called and conducted the primary, and sustained the injunction granted by the Jefferson circuit court to restrain Allie Young from removing the committee or interfering with the primary. The opinion was handed down by Judge Paynter, a majority of the court concurring. As to the committee, it is held by the court that if the State convention gave the State central committee authority to remove local committees, it did not give it power to delegate that authority to Chairman Young or to any other persons. As to the primary, it is held that party authorities have no legal power to call off a primary when the rights acquired by candidates under the call would be destroyed.

JUDGE JAMES HARGIS is being wined and dined in Lexington as if he had done something great. In fact a certain class of Lexington people seem to think he is the whole thing. What has he done to make him a hero, we would like to know? Certainly he's herculean efforts to prevent punishment of the assassins of J. B. Marcum should not entitle him to such recognition. As judge of his county Judge Hargis should have given aid to the prosecution of Jett and White instead of importing lawyers to defend them and making a pretty fair attorney for them himself. If the judge desired to do so he could do a great deal toward bringing order out of chaos in Breathitt county and he owes it to his office and the people who elected him to it to do so and do it at once.

IF any person entertained doubts that Commonwealth's Attorney Floyd K. Byrd, of Breathitt, would fail to do his duty in the prosecution of Jett and White for the murder of James B. Marcum, all must now be dispelled by the manly, courageous and vigorous manner in which he exoriated the alleged murderers and even those commonly believed to be behind them. Byrd's address to the jury was a plain, outspoken demand for the law's triumph and its ultimate vindication. It was free from ambiguity or craft and he eloquently plead for justice.

CAPT. B. J. EWEN is to be heartily commended upon the decision made by him to the effect that he would not make an exhibition of himself by appearing at the Lexington opera house. Capt. Ewen is not of the museum freak kind and does not believe in putting himself up to be looked at. On the contrary, he is an honest, plain, good citizen, who can not be bluffed nor bribed into lying. If Breathitt had more Ewens and fewer Hargises there would be no soldiers at Jackson to-day and no need of any.

CANDY and confectionery to the amount of $100,000,000 are sold in the American home market every year, and to this total of manufacture New York contributes $20,000,000, or one-fifth. Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Illinois are the three other states which contribute largely to the total, which is constantly increasing.

They will be shown no special favors and will be guarded from friend and foe alike. A "fish fry" given by a coterie of Lexington politicians has caused a storm of criticism and all concerned are now denying responsibility for Hargis' presence as a guest.

CARROLL REID's friends, and their name is legion, rejoice in his good luck of Saturday afternoon last. He trained The Picket, who won the American Derby, the best race in America. It is a big boost for Mr. Reid, and it stamps him as one of the very greatest trainers of the day.

The race was worth $27,275 to the winner and as Mr. Reid's contract calls for 10 per cent. of the winnings, it will also be seen that it was a good thing for him financially.

KILLED IN CHURCH.—Bud Ledford was shot and killed in Harmony Church in Garrard, by his brother-in-law, James Rogers. The two had been at out for more than a year and Ledford is said to have made frequent threats against Rogers. Meeting was just over when the fatal shot was fired and a stampede was caused. Ledford lived 10 minutes but did not speak. It is claimed that he brought on the trouble and that an open knife was found in his pocket. One shot was fired, the ball entering below the left eye. Rogers gave himself up and is being guarded by G. M. Siler at Lancaster.

MISS CARR WON.—A large crowd attended Mr. E. H. Beasley's Annual Elocutionary Contest at Walton's Opera House Friday evening and enjoyed to the fullest extent the splendid program arranged by that gentleman and carried out by gentlemen and ladies well up in their particular lines. There were nine contestants for the $40 in gold offered and right hard did they battle for the liberal purse as well as for the honor of winning over so large a field. Following is a list of the young ladies who spoke, together with the subject of each: Miss May Wallace Ballard, Richmond, "The Fight With the Aurochs;" Miss Carrie Webb, St. Catherine's Academy, "The Gypsy Flower Girl;" Miss Cora E. Dodge, Louisville, "Within The Gates;" Miss Katherine Swope Haselden, Danville, "The Jesters;" Miss Minnie Sine, Stanford, "One Thanksgiving Out West;" Miss Sara Daniels, Paris, "The Whistling Regiment;" Miss Allie Rives, Lebanon, "Leah, The Forsaken;" Miss Jennie Carr, Somerset, "As The Moon Rose;" Miss Lillian S. Poore, Garrard County, "Sandy's Romance;" The judges, Rev. G. W. Mills, of Hustonville, and Hons. John W. Brown and B. J. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, took only a few minutes to make a verdict and in a neat speech the former gentleman gave $20 in gold to Miss Carr and $10 in gold to Miss Dodge. The audience voted Miss Carr winner and she was given $10 more. Miss Minnie Sine, of Stanford, was second in the popular vote. Between the readings, Mrs. E. H. Beasley and Miss Grace Grinstead sang two duets that were greatly enjoyed. Prof. J. W. Ireland favored the audience with a couple of solos, Miss Cora Ward, of Lancaster, sang and was so liberally applauded that she was forced to appear again, while Mr. A. B. Beasley gave a number of selections on the piano. The entertainment was a most enjoyable and elevating one throughout and Mr. Beasley is to be congratulated on being the promoter of it. Hon. James N. Saunders was chairman and he made a capital one. His opening remarks were brief but to the point, and his presentation of the popular prize was well-timed and creditable.
